Life Lessons for Olivia Ann Barchetto

Open your own doors is the only way to make sure others can't close them on you
Letting other people touch your heart is the fastest way to get into theirs
In order to enjoy your successes you must reject your failures
Victories are always sweeter when you first suffer a few bitter defeats
Inspiration can be found in the darkest of places once you have let light to come in Appreciating the things you have is a lot better than dwelling on the things you lost

A kind action will always erase cruel words
Never listen to people who won't take the time to listen to you
Never tell some you love them unless you truly mean it

Between every gray cloud is a silver lining
Always try to bring out the best in people, because it will reflect the best in you
Realistic goals can be reached as long as you don't have unrealistic expectations
Chasing your dreams is the only way to ensure they come true
Hearing someone is never as helpful as listening to them
Each time you laugh other people laugh with you
There will always be bad things to get you down
There will always be good things to pick you up again
Other people can't teach the life lessons you need to learn yourself
