

Life's Lessons for Georgia Lorraine Fusco

Give people a reason to smile everytime you see them.

Enter all experiences with an open mind or you'll miss something.

Only you can live your life, nobody else can do it for you.

Rely on somebody only if they can rely on you.

Good things come to those who wait, great things come to those who go get them.

Ignore anyone who says you can't do something, they probably can't do it either.

Anytime you feel alone always remember people care about you.

Learn as much as you can from as many people as possible.

Offer your help to people, but only if they have helped themselves.

Random acts of kindness are appreciated, especially those who least expect it.

Rejection teaches you to be a better person.

Allow yourself to make mistakes.

If someone ever claims they have all the answers, never ask them any questions.

Never say you can't do something if you haven't tried first.

Everytime you get hurt, realize in the long run it will make you stronger.

Friends come in and out our lives, family stays forever.

Uniqueness is a gift nobody can ever take away from you.

Sisters will tease you when you're younger and give advice when you're older.

Crying doesn't make you weak, it makes you human.

Only life's most important lessons have to be learned, not taught.

-J. Mattes
10/12/10