

Jumping to conclusions will eventually land you in hot water

Earning people's respect requires respecting the people around you

Facing a challenge head on is the only way to ensure you can overcome it

Facing reality is sometimes hard but it's better than believing in a fantasy

Every time you make people smile they will always be grateful

Respect other people's opinions doesn't mean you need to agree with them,

Yelling your words may make them louder but that doesn't make them stronger

Lending a hand to someone in need will ensure you will always have a hand to help you

Escaping reality is alright sometimes as long as you find your way back

Over thinking a problem will ensure you will never find a solution

Negative thoughts will always prevent you from obtaining positive outcomes

Kids who never dream big grow up to be adults with small expectations

Leading by example is better than following the wrong leader

Either you do your best to succeed or you will always end up failing

Ideas never acted upon become dreams that never come true

Next time may never come, so be sure to do things right the first time

Falling down is fine as long as you find a way pick yourself up again

Expecting the worst outcome will prevent you from making your best effort

Living in the past will prevent you from having a productive future

The longer you hold on to something the harder it is to let it go

Every time you get hurt realize it will make you stronger in the long run

Remember all the lessons life teaches, so you can live the life you deserve

J. Mattes

2/27/14