

LIFE'S LESSONS FOR SADIE LEE BOUGHER

Successful finishes usually start with more than a few failures
As you grow old keep in mind the things that make you feel young
Decisions that are made too quickly will lead to actions you may regret
Ignoring a minor trouble now can lead to a major trouble later
Escaping reality can be a good thing but you must find your way back

Laughing at yourself is always better than laughing at other people
Every time you cry people you love will cry along with you
Every time you smile it makes people you love happy

Big dreams will always help you to deal with occasional small nightmares
Occasional instances of sorrow should never replace overall happiness
Until you have experienced a little pain you won't know true joy
Grab an opportunity with both hands ensures it doesn't slip away
Hearing someone speak is not the same as listening to what they say
Expecting the worst result will prevent you from giving your best effort
Remember the lessons life teaches you in order to live life to the fullest

J. Mattes
10/22/13